Thanksgiving Meal Eaten Underwater

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii (UPI) — There was just something about Leonard Cozzo's Thanksgiving dinner that didn't seem right. A traditionalist of the old school, Cozzo made certain everything about the dinner was as traditionally American as the big scoop of ice cream that floated atop the hot mince pie.

There was the turkey of course: succulent and juicy inside with the crisp, parchment skin that had been roasted to perfection. The baked ham was a rose pink with the traditional pineapple and raisin sauce. The dressing was New England style — with oysters. For those who had an aversion to turkey, Len had trays of lobster tails swimming in butter on the warming trays.

The biscuits came to the table piping hot and covered with a red napkin to keep them from floating off the table. Naturally there were the traditional trimmings: cranberry sauce, giblet gravy, and applesauce preceded by a choice of shrimp or crabmeat cocktails. All this was anchored by mince or pumpkin pie, fruit cake, ice cream or a plate full of them all.

And the guests were typical polyglot American. The Cozzo family were from Steubenville, Ohio. Jim Mullally was from Cincinnati. Tom McCellan III, came all the way from Birmingham, Ala., and Dave Finch was out of West Chazy, N.Y.

But you just had the feeling that the Pilgrim fathers didn't have eating under water in mind when they started the tradition of Thanksgiving dinner.

For the meal served by specialist chief Gozzo and his cooks was prepared and served aboard the nuclear submarine Tautog, which hosted the crew's families while the blackhulled boat was tied up at Pearl Harbor.

The guests all made the rather unusual entrance to the feasting room, squeezing through a deck hatch and descending down two decks to the compact galley where the dinner was served.

Seldom has so much good food come out of such a small space as Cozzo and his cooks ladled out Thursday. Charles Ullrich of Bakersfield, Calif., and Lawrence Weller of Millerburg, Pa., worked elbow to elbow in the cramped confines of the kitchen, which produced the first prize in the submarine competition for food.

In Holiday Accidents

Fewer Travelers Hurt

By United Press International

Traffic safety officials gave thanks to miserable weather over much of the nation for keeping millions of Americans indoors Thursday and the Thanksgiving holiday weekend traffic death toll under predictions.

An estimated 460 to 560 people could die and another 20,000 to 25,000 suffer disabling injuries in traffic accidents during the four-day weekend, according to the National Safety Council.

A fire in Beaumont and a two-car crash near Raymondville accounted for most of the Texas fatalities registered during the first part of the Thanksgiving holiday weekend.

Police said the fire at a Beaumont halfway house for transients killed Earl Marie Rabe, about 70; Billie Jean Coleman Lewis, 40, and Dixie Huesteter, 33. Their hometowns were not available.

A fourth woman was injured in the fire, which police said appeared to be accidental, and was taken to a Galveston hospital.

Three persons were killed late Wednesday in a two-car head-on collision about 25 miles north of Raymondville on U.S. 77.

A United Press International count at 4 a.m. EST today showed 117 people died in traffic accidents since the start of the holiday weekend at 6 p.m. Wednesday. The count concludes at midnight Sunday.

A breakdown of accidental deaths: Traffic 95 Fires 10 Planes 8 Total 113 Illinois reported 10 traffic deaths, Tennessee, Texas, Missouri each reported seven and California reported six.

A Safety Council spokesman said the holiday estimate was lower than the average traffic toll for a four-day, non-holiday weekend in late autumn and said reduced travel and increased use of public transportation helped make the Thanksgiving weekend safer for motorists.

A winter storm which swept across the Pacific Northwest and upper Midwest Thursday also encouraged motorists to stay off the roads.

Four young men were killed in a two-car head-on collision on a Missouri state road between Labadie and Villa Ridge, Mo., in one of the worst mishaps of the weekend.

Police said a car driven by Ray Doer, 21, of Washington, Mo., crossed the center line and collided head-on with a car driven by Raynold Baker, 40, of New Haven, Mo. Baker's car was on the shoulder of the road when it was struck.

Doer and three passengers in his car — David Schlott, 21, of Washington; John Stallman, 20, of New Haven; and Michael Slomp, 20, of Union, were killed. Baker was hospitalized with head and internal injuries.

Six people were killed Thursday when a twin-engine plane en route from Illinois to Beckley, W.Va., missed the runway at Raleigh County Airport in Beckley and crashed into a handball court wall.

Egypt Issues Invitation To Palestinian Leaders

CAIRO, Egypt — Egypt has decided to invite Palestinian leaders living in Israel and Israeli-occupied lands to visit Cairo for talks on a Middle East peace, a move aimed at undercutting the Palestine Liberation Organization.

The ruling political party, the Arab Socialist Party of Egypt, made the decision Thursday at a meeting called to discuss President Anwar Sadat's breakthrough visit to Israel last weekend.

Sadat's agreement with Israel that there would be "no more war" between their nations has drawn bitter attacks from the PLO, Syria and other hard-line Arabs.

Andrew Young, the American ambassador to the United Nations, rose to Egypt's defense Thursday in New York, praising Sadat's trip to Jerusalem as a demonstration of "rare vision."

The Israeli cabinet also met Thursday and vowed to continue discussing possible ways of bringing peace to the Middle East.

Prime Minister Menahem Begin said Egypt was expected to announce what it considered the next step in direct contacts with Israel. The announcement could come Saturday when Sadat is scheduled to address his Parliament.

Egypt, in its campaign to stifle radical Arabs, expelled three top Palestinian officials Wednesday and ejected a senior Iraqi official Thursday, Dr. Abdel Aal al-Saqban, secretary general of the Arab League's Economic Unity Council.

The Socialist Party did not specify which Palestinians would be invited to Cairo but it appeared the party was attempting to establish contact with Palestinians more moderate than the PLO.

IRS Denies Informers Compensation for Info

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Government tax collectors get thousands of tips each year from citizens who expect a financial reward in return for helping Uncle Sam nail income tax cheats.

But most of them don't receive a penny for their efforts.

The Internal Revenue Service said during the past three years 14,667 people volunteered information, but only 1,414 of them — less than 10 percent — received a cash reward.

An IRS spokesman said $1,052,550 has been paid out to informers during the three-year period — an average of $744.38 each.

The federal Treasury, however, came out far ahead in the deal.

According to the IRS, the government collected $35,276,414 from taxpayers, including $14.9 million during fiscal 1977.

"The motivation behind an in-former's reasoning for calling us about another taxpayer could fill a psychology book," the IRS spokesman said. "It includes patriotism, anger, envy, but many tips are based on the age-old principle of 'I paid mine, he better pay his.'"

The spokesman explained that the decision to pay off in exchange for a tip is completely unilateral.

"It is based on the theory of how much help the informer was to us," he said. "The tip has got to lead us to untaxed income, which we ordinarily would not have recovered."

"Someone cannot simply get drunk, get mad and call us. There must be some substance."

The spokesman said the largest single payment to an informer during fiscal 1977 was $50,000. The IRS got more than $500,000 using the clandestine information received from him.

ZUBIN ENCOUNTERS THE FONZ: The "Star Wars" concert performed by conductor Zubin Mehta and the Los Angeles Philharmonic last Sunday in the Hollywood Bowl was a sellout. So Mehta will repeat it this Sunday — adding the suite from the newest of the space movies, "Close Encounters of the Third Kind." Mehta spiced the "Star Wars" music with a light show and laser beams, a reading by William Shatner of the "Star Trek" TV series, and selections from "The Planets" and Strauss' Zarathustra theme from the movie "2001." This Sunday, part of the show will come back down to earth. Henry "the Fonz" Winkler will follow the space act with a narration of Prokofiev's "Peter and the Wolf."

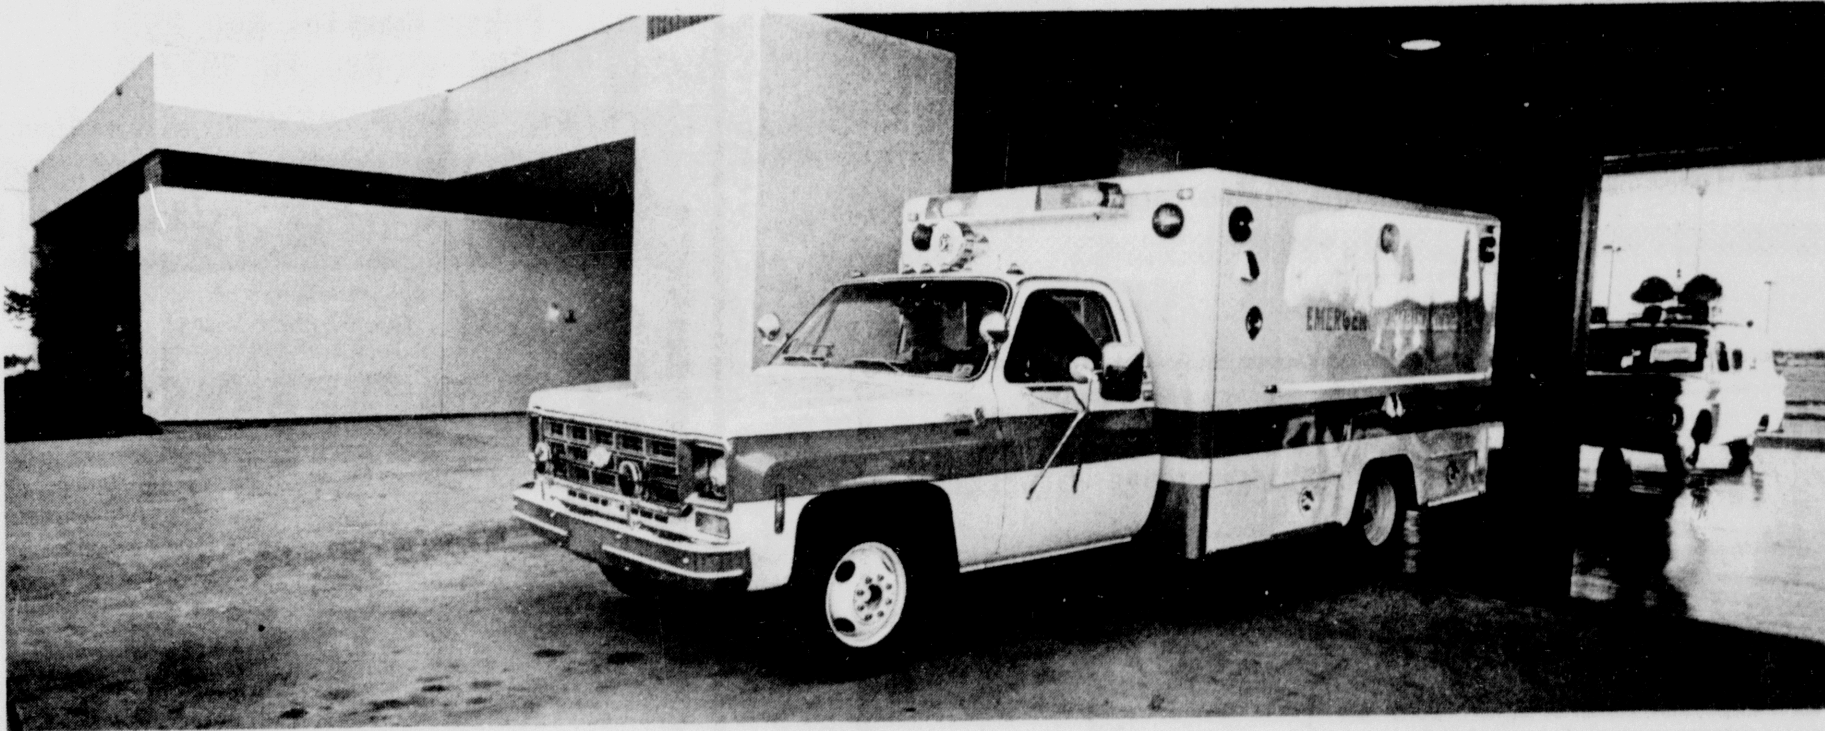

GREGORY JAILED: Comedian and civil rights activist Dick Gregory has been arrested — along with his wife, Lillian, and Massachusetts state Sen. Bill Owens — for carrying placards saying "Thou Shalt Not Kill" in front of the South African Embassy in Washington. They were booked on charges of demonstrating within 500 feet of a foreign embassy. In a statement aimed at the White House, Gregory said, "We ask you to move swiftly to demonstrate to the rulers of the world's most wicked government that our nation will no longer help to subsidize human degradation which is an obscenity before God."

DAYS DWINDLE AT SPAN-DAU: Rudolf Hess — Hitler's former top deputy — is 83 years old now and he's collapsed several times during daily exercise periods in West Germany's Spandau prison. His son, Wolf-Rudiger Hess, has been trying to secure his release for years, and now, backing his bid for his father's freedom are ex-West German Minister of Justice Ewald Bucher and Eugene Bird — former U.S. commandant of Spandau.

FINN FREEDOM DAY: Finland marks its independence day Dec. 6 — after 60 years of home rule in the shadow of the U.S.S.R. — and Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin will be on hand to help the Finns celebrate. He'll join an assortment of royalty and officials, including Prince Henrik and Premier Anker Joergensen of Denmark, Prince Bertil and Premier Thorbjorn Falldin of Sweden, Crown Prince Harald and Premier Odvar Nordli of Norway, and Premier Geir Hallgrimson and Foreign Minister Einar Agustsson of Iceland.

GLIMPSES: Jackie Onassis rode with the Essex Hunt Club in Peapack, N.J., before her Thanksgiving dinner with friends ... Israeli President Ephraim Katzir toured the pyramids of Teotihuacan Thursday in Mexico where he's making a weeklong state visit ... Vice President Walter Mondale cooked the Thanksgiving dinner at his house, letting wife, Joan, sleep late ...

Local Service Improved

New Ambulances More Efficient

By PAM TROBOY

Emergency ambulance service is heading for a new look.

After resisting the trend for several years, the Plano Fire Department is switching to the modular ambulance. Often referred to as "the meat wagon," the new ambulance is expected to save thousands of dollars.

The modular ambulance, designed to be carried on a truck chassis, can be used years longer, barring accident or other mishap.

Instead of replacing the whole ambulance, the city will only have to buy chassis in the future. Chief Lee Mayfield said the modular body should last for about five chassis changes.

The city recently purchased two of the modular ambulances for about $20,000 each. One is already in service and the other is expected to arrive soon.

One of the traditional type ambulances now in service will be retained as a backup unit. The traditional ambulance costs about $14,000.

Fire department personnel were reluctant to change to the modular ambulance, because the ride is not as smooth for the patient.

Firefighters who have used the first ambulance report that driving and maneuverability are no problem. The ride is a little rougher, but the men have been able to adjust to the motion.

A prime reason for the switch to modular is additional room. The modular ambulance has about twice the space in the rear as the ambulances previously in use.

"In the near future, we're going to have to go to a paramedic program," Mayfield added. "We can see it coming, so we decided to switch to the modular ambulance now."

"We need the extra space for all the equipment required by paramedics," he explained. "There will still be a lot of extra space in the new ambulances with the additional equipment, however."

Currently, the department calls on about 20 Emergency Medical Technicians to staff its ambulances. Mayfield noted that the department had previously tried to have every firefighter become an EMT, but the cost became prohibitive.

Now the department requires every man to pass advanced first aid and many have become Emergency Care Attendants, one step below EMTs.

Whenever possible, the two firefighters assigned to handle all ambulance calls on a shift are EMTs, Mayfield stressed.

To obtain an EMT rating, the men take 120 hours of formal classroom training. Much of the course is taught by licensed physicians.

Then the men are required to work in a hospital for another 40 hours. Most of the practical experience is gained in the emergency room and obstetrics techniques, although some time is spent in the operating room.

EMTs are allowed to administer oxygen, give mouth to mouth resuscitation, do CPR and the normal bandaging and splinting. They cannot administer any medication or make a diagnosis.

If the EMTs go on to become

Plano firefighters are converting to a new style ambulance for emergency calls. The modular ambulance has more than twice the room of traditional ambulances. The extra room will allow the installation of sophisticated equipment when the paramedic program goes into effect. (Staff photos by Mike Newman)

Payless Shoe Shops Opens Store in Plano

Volume Shoe Corporation announces the grand opening of its 558th Pay-Less Casual Shoe Store on Friday in Plano. The new Pay-Less store is located in the Park Mall Shopping Center on Avenue K and Park Boulevard.

Like other Pay-Less stores, this unit provides its customers with a unique alternative in shoe shopping. Families may browse and try on shoes in a care-free, no-pressure environment. Fitting specialists are always available when needed. Each Pay-Less store is merchandised to meet the footwear needs of the community in which it is located. Customers visiting the new store will find over 8,000 pairs of shoes on open display in current styles, sizes and colors.

This selection includes a full line of dress, casual, work, canvas and rubber footwear.

Barry Carr, Store Manager and host of the grand opening, has been employed by Volume for one year. Carr attended Oklahoma State University in Stillwater and received his managerial training in Tulsa, Oklahoma. He has previously managed company stores in McAlester, Oklahoma, and Irving, Texas.

"Consumer research indicates a growing preference among American families for self-service shopping," said S. Lee Pozez, President of Volume Shoe Corporation.

Modular ambulances have a different look from the traditional type. Firefighters have found, however, that although the ride is rougher, there is no problem with maneuverability. (Staff photo by Mike Newman).

paramedics, they must complete an additional 300 hours training. On a doctor's instructions, a paramedic can administer certain medications and begin IVs.

Firefighters average four ambulance calls a day from Plano residents. The service is free within the city limits. Plano answers some calls in the county and the county in turn bills those residents for the service to recover the city's contracted price of $4,000 a year.

Plano and Richardson are the only cities in the area to offer free emergency ambulance service to their residents. Richardson charges non-residents $25. To call an ambulance during an emergency, dial 424-4523.

'Learned Ladies' To Open Sunday

Seventeenth century France and the wit of Moliere will come alive Tuesday on the Theatre Three stage with the opening of "The Learned Ladies." Prize winning author Richard Wilbur recently completed this translation of rhyming couplet verses which takes aim at the perils of over-learned ladies in Moliere's time.

Theatre Three's grande dame of the stage, Norma Young, will play the lead role of Philaminte, the overpowering mother of a divided household in Paris. Half of the family is down-to-earth and reasonable, the other enamored with lofty ideas and pretentiousness.

The stage is set for a battle-royale and the family members are aptly portrayed by Georgia Clinton, Mary Ellen Alexander, Larry Drake, Michael Van Dalsem and Ray Pond.

Additional cast members include David Wren, Peggy Chilton, Paul Dollar, Cathy Lynch, Michael Ross, Kerry Graves, Mary Courtney, Hancel Deaton and Nancy Sherrard.

The play opens Nov. 29 at 8 p.m. and runs through Dec. 31 with a gala New Year's Eve performance planned for closing night. Tickets prices are $4, $5 and $6 and group rates are available. Call 748-5191 for reservations.

Bethany Schedules Dr. Getz

Dr. Gene A. Getz, associate professor of practical theology at Dallas Theological Seminary and missionary pastor at Fellowship Bible Church, will begin a four-Sunday series this week at Bethany Bible Fellowship.

"The Measure of a Church" will be discussed by Dr. Getz during the church's teaching hour from 9:30-10:30 a.m. Bethany Bible Fellowship currently meets at Shepard Elementary School, 1000 Wilson Drive. The public is invited to attend the services.

Four-H Open to All Youth

"How would you like to join Four-H? You can, you know, if you really want to and we'd be glad to have you," says Kent Shaw, assistant county extension agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Four-H is a national youth program for all youth between the ages of 9 and 19 regardless of race, color, ethnic background, economic status or cultural differences. The program is administered by the Cooperative Extension Service in each state.

The purpose of Four-H is to develop leadership and character in young people. Four-H'ers learn by doing through actively working on projects and participating in club meetings and Four-H activities, notes Shaw.

Four-H clubs are organized in such places as rural, suburban and urban neighborhoods. Groups may be organized among neighborhood families in one or two city blocks, housing complexes or anywhere they are needed.

Youth can participate in a variety of projects in Four-

H, such as foods, clothing, animal projects, arts and crafts, and many others. "In fact, almost anything you want can be a project," said Shaw.

"Most important and most of all, Four-H is a lot of fun!" he added. "Where else can you get together with other people your age and have fun while you learn? Boys and girls in Four-H are always on the move doing something and participating in various activities.

"For instance, the Four-H rifle project attracts numerous youngsters each year who are interested in learning to shoot and observe gun safety.

"Livestock projects give youngsters a chance to be responsible for an animal and enter stock shows where they learn competitiveness and sportsmanship.

"Four-H'ers can even learn to make their own clothes through clothing projects.

"Besides projects, other activities such as the Share-the-Fun Contest give youngsters the chance to participate in organized recreation. County Four-H Rally Day is the time for playing games and making new friends.

"Members in Four-H can go on trips, take tours of interesting and educational places, and can help finance their college education with a scholarship awarded through Four-H.

"If you know of a young person aged 9-19 call the county extension office at 542-4413 and we'll contact the individual about joining the Four-H program," Shaw concluded.

Assertive Seminars Planned

A one-day skill building workshop in "Assertiveness Training" will be offered by the Family Guidance Center, a United Way agency, on Saturday, December 10, from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. at its downtown Dallas office, 2200 Main Street.

The workshop is open to adults who want to learn to express feelings, opinions, desires and needs so as to be heard and taken seriously; learn to say "no" without feeling guilty; and discover ways to assure being treated with respect.

Genevieve Giese, Director of Family Life Education, and Hugh Vinson, staff counselor, will lead the workshop. The fee is $15 for the day. Required advance registration may be made by calling the Center at 747-8331.

Your Birthday

Nov. 26, 1977

One of the things that makes this coming year unique is that you will look for partners instead of continuing to play a lone hand. Some alliances will be both profitable and enjoyable.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Someone you know may present a proposal that you dismiss because of that person's past record. Reflection may prove it to be a very sound plan. Find out to whom you're romantically suited by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph Letter. Mail 50 cents for each a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, P.O. Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify your birth sign.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Whether you succeed today depends largely on the ante. If the stakes are high enough, your fears and doubts will almost magically dissolve.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) There's a chance today that you may be uneasy about participating in activities with strangers. This is a mistake. You could meet a valuable ally.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Initially today you may go after prestige instead of pesos. Have a good talk with yourself, then take the cash and let the credit go.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Doubts may arise as to whether a person with whom you have a close relationship really appreciates you. His actions overcome your fears.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Part of you is opting to get something for nothing, while the nobler part wants to strive hard for rewards. Your noble nature wins.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) While you are not easily dissuaded, it would be wise to avoid associates who tend to vacillate. The exposure could weaken you.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Your secret today is to try to make things you have to do fun. Obligatory functions will quickly turn you off.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) People are your books today. Study them. You'll find they're no better or worse than you, but have different experiences you can learn from.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Intangibles tend to confuse you today. You can't quite grasp them. Something you can get a handle on you can parlay into dollars and cents.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You dwell somewhere between the worlds of reality and dreams today, but your real success lies in reality.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) The joke is on you if you think you can receive without giving today. Extend yourself. You'll be compensated beyond what you expect.

Tea dissolves china crust

By Polly Cramer

POLLY'S PROBLEM

DEAR POLLY—I do hope someone can tell me how to remove a crust left from hard water residue that is in the bottom of an antique chinapitcher I have just acquired. I have tried vinegar in boiling water and scouring with numerous cleaning agents but nothing worked. — MRS. J.T.

DEAR MRS. J.T. — Try vinegar and tea leaves, shake and leave them in to soak but shake every so often. This may take a long time, it took a long time to build up so be patient. Arming the vinegar may help. If any of the readers know of something else I am sure they will share it with you. — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — My blanket is so short that when I make the bed there is never enough to tuck in so it does not come loose during the night. I folded an old sheet in thirds (three pieces from one sheet) and sewed a piece at the end of a blanket and then made a hem so it stays tight and snug on the bed. My neighbors were very curious when they saw my blanket on the line but now I have seen several others with white strips on the end. — FRANCES.

DEAR POLLY — When someone asks to borrow your crocheting or knitting instructions, a treasured recipe, etc. first have it photostated (banks, post offices and libraries have these machines) and the small cost will be an investment in friendship. Never, never allow ANYONE to borrow such things unless you are willing to kiss them a permanent good-bye. There is always a first time for even the most trustworthy of persons to forget. Give them the copy but never the original.

Save all your empty thread spools and use them to wind your embroidery floss on. Peel off the original papers at the ends and put on the number of the floss so you can replace it with more of the exact same shade if need be. A plastic ice cube tray is nice for holding these spools of floss. Many of them stack nicely so they are great for organizing one's sewing drawer as they hold and separate the various sewing "findings". — PAULA.

DEAR POLLY — Mrs. D.J. wrote that she was stuck at home with nothing to do so may I suggest that she put her time to good use by volunteering to read and record for the blind. She can contact her local library or the State Commission for the Blind concerning this. At one time I was confined to the house and I did this and found it most interesting and so very much appreciated. — MARY H.

DEAR POLLY — My granddaughter takes her lunch to school and her thermos has such a small opening it is next to impossible to put in ice cubes. The bottle is plastic so I now wash it in the evening and then put in a small amount of water and put in the freezer. In the morning it is ready to fill with her favorite drink and it stays cold until lunchtime. — MRS. J.E.B.

Polly will send you one of her signed thank-you newspaper coupon clippers if she uses your favorite Pointer, Peeve or Problem in her column. Write POLLY'S POINTERS in care of this newspaper.

Also Poison

Frost to Come Soon

Frost will be hitting Collin county before long, and this could lead to prussic acid poisoning in livestock grazing certain pasture grasses and forages, points out James R. Risinger, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Although many plants contain the toxic material that causes poisoning, those causing the highest mortality in livestock when grazed after they have been frozen and wilted are Johnson and Sudan grasses and Sorghum or hybrids of these.

The most dangerous time as far as the grazing of these plants is concerned is following frost when the plant material begins to wilt, emphasizes the county agent. Livestock should not be allowed access to the wilted material until it has dried completely. This usually takes three or four days of good sunlight. New plant growth usually becomes nontoxic and can be grazed within 10 days to two weeks following a rain.

As far as prussic acid poisoning is concerned, the poison acts rapidly and can kill animals within minutes. In most acute cases, animals become affected within 10-15 minutes after eating toxic material and can die in two to three minutes. Symptoms may include a brief period of stimulation followed by depression and paralysis. Signs of colic may be present. Stupor (loss of sensibility), difficult breathing and frequent convulsions may result. Death is caused by suffocation since oxygen remains in the blood and is not exchanged to the tissues. This also causes the blood to appear bright red.

To prevent prussic acid poisoning in livestock, Eliainger outlines these steps:

—Allow plant material affected by frost to dry thoroughly before grazing. This may require a week or more of good sunlight.

—Feed animals hay or a supplement before turning them in on plants that may contain prussic acid. Animals that are not hungry will not be affected as seriously by toxic material since their intake will be limited.

—Remove all animals from the pasture if one in the herd shows any signs of poisoning.

—Call a veterinarian immediately if an animal appears to be poisoned. An antidote to treat affected animals is highly efficient if given early. This product is available from veterinarians.

—Have suspect plant material checked by the Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratories at College Station or Amarillo. Local veterinarians will be happy to submit samples for you.

The overall key to preventing prussic acid poisoning in livestock is to be aware of plant materials that may cause poisoning and then to keep cattle from grazing such plants until a safe period has passed.

The Backyard Gardener

By PATRICK DENTON
Copley News Service

During these off-season days when the weather is cooler and the outdoor garden has mostly packed it in, it's a good idea to take advantage of the lull to concoct some new ideas for next spring's garden.

For example, I've been listing some of the garden items I've not grown for a long time and would like to try again — like a brilliant, multicolored bed of portulaca, or moss rose in a sunny spot. This is a low-growing plant with almost cactus-like foliage (not prickly though) and large, double, ruffled blooms in many vivid colors.

But the item I think we've let slip most over the past few years is our herb collection. Several years ago my wife went in big for herbs, and planted almost every known, and some practically unknown, herb in our garden.

Now, however, some of our favorites, like the thyme bush, needs a new plant to replace it. Others, like borage, have been dug out simply because we found we didn't use it. Others need digging out because they are too invasive. One such is our lemon balm, which has completely engulfed and obliterated the sage plant, and is currently taking over the lawn. A charming and terribly hardy plant, with sweetly lemon-scented leaves, the lemon balm, I am afraid, is living on borrowed time.

Having missed some of her favorite herbs for cooking this season, my wife ordered me to dig out a massively overgrown spirea from a corner of the perennial border near the kitchen door. Since then she has dug in buckets of kitchen vegetable waste at the site. There, in the spring, she is planning to plant up new specimens, grown from seed, of her favorite perennial herbs — thyme, sage, chive and rosemary. Behind these, she plans to seed her favorite annual herbs — dill, basil and summer savory.

I suspect she will also take a strip of border along the house by the kitchen door, in the sun, for some extras. Thyme, for example — there never seems to be enough of that, for each time my wife cooks a fish in foil it is always topped with lemon slices and a large branch of the thyme plant.

Old-time gardeners swear that herbs can be used as doctors in the backyard garden. Garlic, for example, planted in amongst the rose bushes will keep off aphids. Borage keeps the strawberries healthy, and cabbages are aided by sage, mint, thyme and rosemary.

Mint, a favorite of ours, should be planted in an old tin bucket or other container with the bottom cut out, to prevent its spreading. My wife dries mint leaves for cooking, and also to scatter over the rugs before vacuuming, to freshen up the house. Works better than any aerosol.

Sage has a special use in our house. We lay one or two sage leaves between thin slices of veal and back bacon that has been smoked but not cured, for prosciutto. They are all pounded together and sauteed in butter. When they are done, they are put on a platter, fresh lemon juice is added to the butter, thickened if you like, and poured on top of the veal scallops.

Rosemary is indispensable with chicken, basil (especially the ornamental Dark Opal) is a must with tomatoes. Dill flavors most vegetables agreeably.

Parsley can be grown as a border edging, along with white alyssum for color contrast.

You can start a herb garden right now, indoors on a sunny windowsill or under lights, along with salad lettuce, radish, even beans.

Children will especially like cress, which germinates so quickly. It could even be grown scattered on a wet sponge and used for a salad to go with Christmas dinner.

FRENCH JEANS

The worldwide craze for denim and jeans all started in France, according to Air France. The fabric made famous by Levi Strauss was a French cloth from Nimes ("de Nimes") worn by sailors from Genoa ("Genes") whose denim jeans fast became the rage of the Wild West.

ASK DOC GARD'NER

by NEIL SPERRY

Dear Doc: When is the best time to transplant several trees in our landscape? Any special tips?

Transplanting is best done in mid-winter after a hard freeze or two. Dig the soil ball carefully, allowing 8-10 inches of ball diameter per inch of trunk diameter. Make sure all roots are severed before you lift the ball, and take pains to keep it intact. Prune top growth to compensate for roots lost during digging, generally a 30-50 percent cutback. Plant at the same height as the tree grew before, then water deeply and thoroughly.

Dear Doc: Our redbud tree has become pretty sparse the last several months. Now we notice a big batch of mushrooms growing out one side of the trunk. What damage do they do?

It sounds like mushroom root rot, a serious disease of older redbuds. There's really no chemical control. About all you can do is remove the tree and replace it with a live oak, red oak, cedar elm, pecan or some other resistant species. You may, first, want to cut out the decayed portion, dust with sulfur and spray with pruning paint. There's at least hope that this is only a group of mushrooms growing out of a decayed spot. If the tree fails to respond by spring it's likely the disease.

Dear Doc: What's the unusual tree with the bright yellow fan-shaped leaves?

Sounds like ginkgo. It's more commonly used farther north. Here it is quite slow growing, though its unusual form makes it worth trying. Limbs shoot out in long, straight patterns. The leaves are dark green all summer, butter yellow in fall. The tree has no pests of consequence. Specify a male, grafted tree. Female trees bear a messy (and smelly!) fruit each year.

Dear Doc: When should we plant the following seeds to get transplants for our spring garden? We've never grown any of these before: alyssum, calendulas, gloriosa daisies and latana. Alyssum and calendulas can be sown indoors or in a greenhouse in early January for planting out in mid-February. Sow gloriosa daisies February 1 for transplanting out in late March—early April. Lantana is best grown from cuttings of the new, improved spreading types. Seedlings are too variable.

Dear Doc: If the nematode chemical DBCP is no longer available, how can I clean up my garden this fall? It's apparently loaded with nematodes.

DBCP, whose production was halted when it was discovered to cause sterility in those who were manufacturing it, is best as a control around existing plants. Vapam is really much better as a nematocide, plus it has none of the harmful side effects. Treat now, while the soil is still relatively warm.

Dear Doc: How come cherries don't do very well here?

It's a combination of sustained hot summer temperatures and winters that aren't cold enough to promote good flowering. Most folks have troubles even getting the trees to grow, let alone set fruit.

Write to Doc Gard'ner in care of this newspaper and watch for a speedy reply!

State Senators to Speak At Annual Farm Meeting

The state's two U.S. Senators will be guest speakers for the Texas Farm Bureau's 44th annual meeting in Houston Nov. 27-30.

About 1,500 farmers and ranchers will attend the convention which climaxes the year's activities for the state's largest farm organization in such areas as state and national legislation, commodity programs, economic service programs and farm safety.

All sessions of the convention will be in the Shamrock-Hilton Hotel.

Speaking at the Monday morning general session will be Senator John Tower. Senator Lloyd Bentsen will address the Tuesday morning session.

Three TFB figures will make major presentations: the annual president's address by Carroll Chaloupka of Dalhart; the annual secretary-treasurer's report by W. Reed Lang of Rio Hondo; and the administrative report by Executive Director Warren Newberry of Waco.

Brenda Baumgardner Drewes, instructor with Total Woman, Inc., will address the Ladies Luncheon, and Jack Jackson of American Airlines will speak at the Young Farmers and Ranchers breakfast.

Eighteen other guest speakers will speak at the 12 special conferences on various matters of interest to farmers and ranchers.

More than 1,000 voting delegates from 210 organized county Farm Bureaus will adopt policies to guide the state organization next year. They will also approve recommendations for national policies that will be forwarded to the annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation to be held in January, also in Houston.

In addition to taking positions on issues, Farm Bureau leaders will recognize rural young people of the state with a Discussion Meet, Talent Find and Queen Contest finals at the convention. They will also recognize counties that have done outstanding work in the fields of membership acquisition, information and public relations, and safety.

The annual event will open with a vesper service on Sunday evening, Nov. 27. Minister William D. Koons, vicar of Refugio Episcopal Church of the Ascension and St. Stephen's Episcopal Church of God, will be the speaker. He was recently named the 1977 Texas Rural Minister of the Year.

The final order of business will be the election of a president and directors by the voting delegates. Immediately following the convention, the new TFB Board will meet to select a vice president and secretary-treasurer from its own number.

The convention climaxes a year in which the state organization recorded its largest membership gain—18,626—to hit all-time high of 214,197 member families.

Irving Beaten By JV

Plano Senior High's Junior Varsity cagers picked up their season win of the season in as many games Tuesday night by beating Irving, 76-58.

Larry Wallace paced the effort with 23 points followed by Joe Simmons with 16 points.

"We played outstanding defense," Coach Gary Moseley said. "We ran our offense and defense well. It was a good team effort. We were able to take a big lead in the first half because we hit 56 percent from the floor. We played a lot more aggressive on the boards and that helped also."

Also scoring were Ree Smith with eight points, Kirk Waggoner with nine points, Alford Haynes and Danny Dyer with four points each, Mark Flemmer with six points and two point contributions by Chris Knowles, Mike Henry and Ralph Youngblood.

By Miami Dolphins

Cardiac Cards Kicked, 55-14

By United Press International

The "Cardiac Cardinals" took a six-game winning streak into their Thanksgiving Day game against the Dolphins, but Miami quarterback Bob Griese gave the St. Louis defense a case of heart failure with his dazzling right arm.

Directing an awesome ground attack that carved out 295 yards rushing, Griese fired six touchdown passes — three to Nat Moore — through a decimated St. Louis secondary as the Dolphins rolled to a 55-14 route.

In the only other Thursday game, the Chicago Bears moved to within a half-game of the Minnesota Vikings in the NFC Central with a 31-14 victory over the Detroit Lions.

The Dolphins broke to a 28-7 halftime lead and even the big-play Cardinal attack couldn't compete with the Dolphins, who accumulated over 500 yards in total offense.

"We could do pretty much what we wanted to do," said Griese, who completed 15-of-23 passes.

The victory lifted Miami's record to 8-3 and left them a half-game behind the Oakland Raiders in the battle for the final playoff berth in the AFC.

Behind the running and pass receiving of Walter Payton, the Bears scored 17 points in 5:30 of the third quarter and defeated the Lions, effectively ending Detroit's playoff hopes with a 5-6 record.

Payton, who set an NFL record with 275 yards rushing in last Sunday's game against Minnesota, scored two second-half touchdowns — one on a 75-yard pass from Bob Avellini — to spark the Bears' triumph. The 23-year-old running back rushed for 137 yards in 20 carries and caught four passes for 107 yards in helping the Bears boost their record to 6-5.

"Everything is going good for us, but ... I'm thinking one game at a time and next is Tampa Bay," said Payton, who is 462 yards shy of O.J. Simpson's record for rushing yards in a single season (2,003).

The most attractive game on Sunday's schedule pits Baltimore, the first-place team in the AFC's Eastern Division, against Denver, the leader of the AFC's Western Division. Both teams have league-leading 9-1 records but Dallas leads Miami by only 1½ games and Denver has just a one-game lead over Oakland.

Dallas, the leader of the NFC's Eastern Division, faces an old nemesis Sunday when it takes on Washington. The aging Redskins are two games behind Dallas in the division race and Washington annually pulls off surprising upsets late in the season.

In other games Sunday, Minnesota is at Green Bay, New Orleans at San Francisco, Los Angeles at Cleveland, Pittsburgh at Green Bay, San Diego at Seattle, Atlanta at Tampa Bay, the New York Giants at Cincinnati, Philadelphia at New England and Kansas City at Houston.

Buffalo is at Oakland in the Monday night game.

Eagle Females Downed

Allen's High School girls basketball team lost their first game of the season in three outings to McKinney, Tuesday night in McKinney, 62-37.

The Eagles trailed only 8-7 after one quarter but the Lions built up a 25-11 advantage at the half. Allen shot only 21 percent from the floor.

"We shot real poor from the floor making only 9 of 42," said Coach Rick Clements. "We turned the ball over 30 times. We'll learn from this loss and be a better team from now on," added Coach Clements.

Janet Hall continues to lead the Eagles in scoring as she hit for 21 points. She was followed by Toni Hedgecoxe with ten points, Lisa McMakin with two points and Tracie Lewis and Belinda Seaman, both with two points.

Allen will play Celina in the first round of the annual Frisco Tournament on Thursday, Dec. 1 at 4 p.m.

Allen Boys Seventh Rallies In 29-10 Win

Allen's 14-6 halftime lead was increased to a final 29-10 as the seventh grade boys basketball team defeated

Bonham Monday night at Bonham.

"We played a good game," said Coach Jack Biggerstaff. "It was good for our players because we beat a class 3A school."

Jody Reeves was the Eagles leading scorer with nine points. He was followed by Scott Evans with six points, Mike Robertson, Kevin Williams and Eddie McGee all with four points and Scott Hardin with two points.

The boys next game is in the Allen tournament in Allen on Dec. 1, 2 and 3.

Eagle Girls Edged

Allen's eighth grade girls basketball lost their second close game in as many outings losing Monday night at Allen 23-22 against Wylie.

The girls lost Saturday in the Quinlan Tournament to Quinlan 20-18 in the last ten seconds.

Chris Doherty was the leading scorer for the Eagles with 16 points. She was followed by Diane Purcell, Kelly Lamb and Sylvia Woods all with two points.

"The girls played a good game but just made a few mistakes and got sloppy on their defense in the second half," said Coach Shelia Holland, "but with a little practice we'll take care of this."

Edwards Honored

By United Press International

MONTREAL (UPI) — Hamilton Tiger Cat running back Jim Edwards was selected Thursday as the year's outstanding player in the Canadian Football League.

Edwards, who beat out Jerry Tagge of the British Columbia Lions for the award, led the league in rushing with an Eastern Conference record of 1,581 yards.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Three University of Kentucky standouts — quarterback Derrick Ramsey, defensive end Art Still and defensive back Dallas Owens — Thursday became the first players to accept invitations to play in the Shrine East-West Football Game and Pageant Dec. 31 at Stanford Stadium.

The three will play for the East squad, which will be coached by George Welsh of Navy.

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — The St. Louis Blues Thursday recalled Brian Ogilvie and Floyd Thomson from the Salt Lake Golden Eagles, the team's farm club in the Central Hockey League.

The two will join the club in time for weekend games at Cleveland and Boston.

Allen JV Girls Win

After hitting only 6 out of 44 shots from the field for 13 percent, the Allen JV girls basketball team extended their record to 3-0 with their win over McKinney Tuesday night, 17-4.

McKinney's only two baskets in the game came in the second quarter and the third quarter.

"We shot very poorly but we got to play everybody in the game and gained experience from it," said Coach Clements.

Kim Norris led the Eagles scoring attack with seven points. She was followed by Thersa Purdom with four points.

The JV's next game is in Farmersville against Farmersville at 6 p.m. on Thursday, Dec. 1.

Briefs

Recycled Paper
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI)—The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency says it has recycled almost 40 tons of white waste paper, equal to about 673 trees, in the past two years.

Replicas of Magna Carta for Sale
LINCOLN, England (UPI)—Everybody talks about the Magna Carta, but few people have ever seen it. Now you can buy a copy.

The great charter of rights, on which both English and American common-law is based, exists in four copies, one of which is at Lincoln Cathedral here.

As part of the 900-year-old cathedral's campaign to raise money for operating costs, a colored replica is being sold from the cathedral's shop for $9, including air mail postage; lightweight version, $6 including postage.

The Lincoln copy of the Magna Carta was on display in the U. S. during the New York World's Fair of 1939. It has seven coats of arms on it, including those of King John and six of the Runnymede Barons who had connections in Lincolnshire. One of them was a direct ancestor of the current Dean of Lincoln, illustrating the staunch continuity of British tradition.

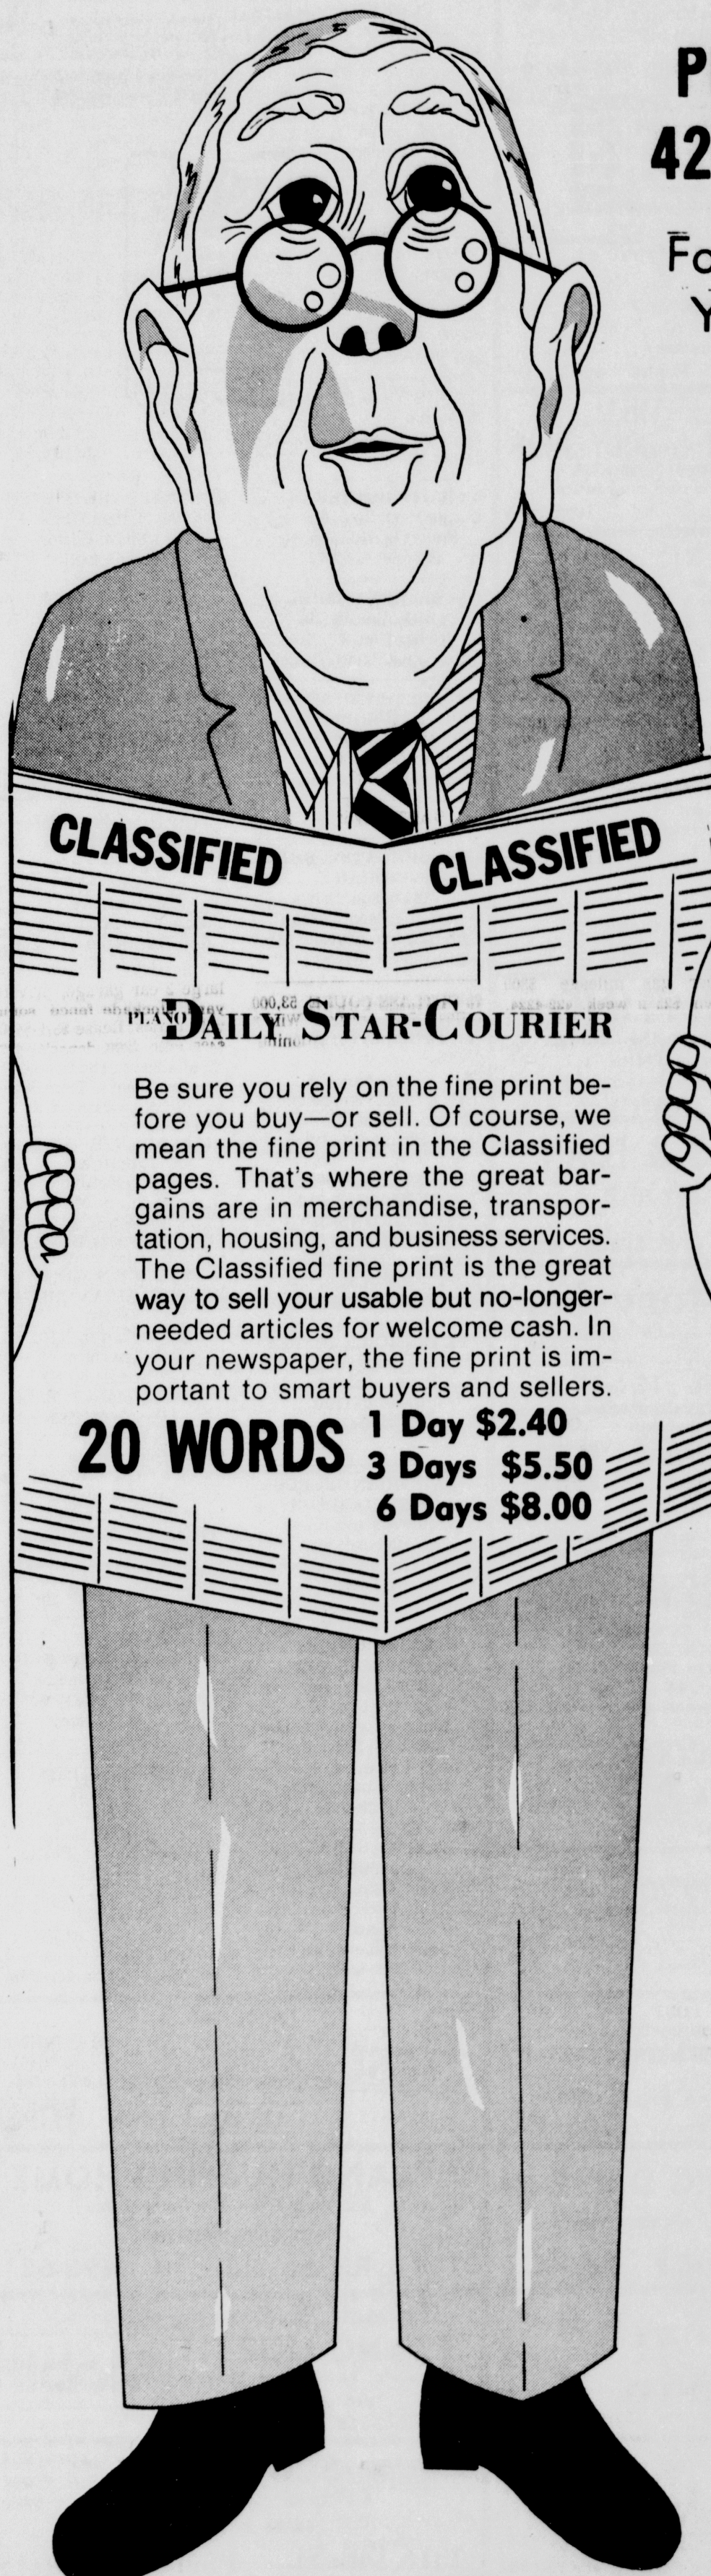

It was in 1215 that the great Barons of England forced King John to sign a charter at Runnymede, near Windsor, giving them certain fundamental rights in law which, over the years, have been extended to include ordinary folk.

(Write Minster Shop, Exchequer Gate, Lincoln, England.)

"Over the River and Through the Woods..."

"To Grandmother's House We Go." This familiar song recalls memories of Thanksgiving of the past. Today things have changed. We may have to travel through heavy traffic on the freeway to reach Grandmother's house but most Americans continue to spend Thanksgiving with their families wherever they are.

Though America has changed since the first Thanksgiving, we still retain many of the values of that first celebration. First and foremost is the wish to be with families and loved ones on this special day. Thank God, for all your blessings, particularly the greatest one—your family.

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a byproduct of the church. It is here that young and old alike are shaped with convictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. The church is the spiritual and moral center of the community. It is the place where the individual finds his or her true self. It is the place where the individual finds his or her true self. It is the place where the individual finds his or her true self.
